Marathon Room

"Want to know how to meet the challenges of today's budget issues? Interested in a seasoned veteran's approach to handling these issues? For this year's SAAS Academic Department Heads Session, Dr. Gregory Bohach, Vice-President of the Division of Agriculture, Forestry and Veterinary Medicine at Mississippi State University will join us to share his wisdom about addressing budget challenges head-on. As former Department Head and Director of the Idaho Experiment Station in addition to his current role, Dr. Bohach will share many insights into how department heads can best deal with the opportunities that arise during these exciting times."
